INSTRUCTIONS & REGULATIONS

For those filmmakers concerned about piracy in the region, please note that Bangkok IndieFest adheres to strict motion picture IP standards; we will not make your submitted content available to any third party - aside from actual live exhibition festival environment - without your permission.

Screeners will not be returned; they will be securely archived or destroyed, at your request. Please be advised that we may want to consider your movie for later screenings or series, or to refer your movie to other local organizations, venues, or broadcasters with filmmaker's permission.

We are 100% committed to protecting your copyrighted material! We are recognized internationally by a variety of organizations as being diligent in this area.

All selected films / videos may be excerpted for publicity purposes, up to 1.5 minutes in length.

Filmmakers will be notified by email as a primary means of notification if accepted into the festival.

Films accepted into Bangkok IndieFest may be accompanied in programming materials by the contact information provided by entrant. Filmmakers who do not wish to have their contact information, i.e., email address, publicly available should notify festival staff at info@bangkokfest.com within one month of notification of acceptance.

SHIPPING INFORMATION

Send us your movie (2 copies) on DVD, region free, NTSC or PAL; you may also submit an 'additional' (not instead of, but in addition to) a Hi-Rez version, compressed with H.264 at Highest Quality or better format on a separate data disc (data-DVD)

Filmmaker submits with the understanding that, if movie is selected, we will screen in the actual festival environment from the submitted screener copy itself or digital file derived from same. Due to logistical reasons and other factors, it's impractical for us to request a second, 'finished' version -

Therefore, please send only your finished, ready-to-screen movie.

Please make sure that any disclaimers or logos, i.e. "Screening Copy Only", should be unobtrusive enough such that, if/when your film is selected, a festival audience will not be adversely affected.

Filmmaker assumes cost of materials sent to the festival.

Entries should be sent with the following declaration: "No commercial value--cultural purposes only" If a value is required for customs purposes, please put $1 US Dollar, or other amount at your discretion. Entrants assume all responsibility for clearing DVDs through U.S. and/or foreign customs officials.

We are not responsible for submissions that may be lost in transit, though of course you can re-send another screener without an additional entry fee.

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Each copy should include the following information: title, running time, filmmaker name, Tracking number(s), PayPal # (if any) and email address.

All submissions must be DVD region 1 or 0 or region-free; please make sure DVD is secured on its center spindle so it will not dislodge during transit.

Our intention is to exhibit your movie a user-friendly digital format. Filmmaker submits with the understanding that that final exhibition will be from DVD, a file derived from that DVD, or a superior (optional) digital format supplied on an accompanying DVD data disc by filmmaker.

Please send promotional materials or press kits on an accompanying data DVD or CD with your actual submission - we will request hardcopy materials later if/when we require them.

IMPORTANT: Do not send materials in fiber-filled envelopes as the dust can damage viewing equipment

LANGUAGES

Movies produced in languages other than English or Thai must have English subtitles (as per international standard).

RIGHTS AND CLEARANCES

By submitting via this form, submitter confirms that all necessary rights are secured, confirms that s/he is authorized to represent such rights as copyright holder or authorized representative, and furthermore holds Bangkok IndieFest, its staff, venues, and affiliates harmless for any damages that may result due to lack of proper clearances.

In the event we must make your screener available to the Thai government for approval we will seek your permission first, and grant you the opportunity to prohibit said further evaluation of your movie (via withdrawal from Bangkok IndieFest) if this is not agreeable.

By submitting, submitter authorizes Bangkok IndieFest to screen the submitted movie (Title) in a public performance film festival 'main event' setting, and at our ongoing affiliated Bangkok IndieFest festival screening series.
